Teaching Philosophy

As an educator in the field of theatre and design, I believe that the core purpose of teaching is to facilitate and nurture students' growth, both artistically and personally. My teaching philosophy is centered on creating an engaging, inclusive, and supportive learning environment that caters to the diverse needs of all students. By employing dynamic and interactive teaching methods, I aim to ignite students' curiosity, inspire a love for the arts, and foster creative and critical thinking skills. Through hands-on experiences and collaborative projects, I guide students in mastering the technical and artistic aspects of theatrical design, helping them to develop a deep understanding of the craft. I am committed to adapting my instructional approaches to ensure that every student has the opportunity to thrive, encouraging them to reach their full potential and become lifelong learners. My ultimate goal is to empower students to take ownership of their education, develop the skills necessary for success in the theatre industry.
